

A word from Chris

I trust that you all had a blessed Easter period and my sincere hope is that you managed to find the balance between leading/giving, and allowing the Spirit to talk to you as well.

In the coming months, as things get back to “normal” can I remind you to not forget a few events that I believe should be on your agenda. Please pray for (and attend if you can) the induction service for the lecturer in New Testament Dr John Frederick (author of Worship in the Way of Cross: Leading Worship for the Sake of Others in 2017), Dr Paul Jones, lecturer in Old Testament and Homiletics (author of Sharing God’s Passion: Prophetic Spirituality and Job’s Way Through Pain: Karma, Clichés and Question), and Simon Gomersall, lecturer in Historical and Contemporary Mission and Director of Activate (Gap Year Program). So, if you go to Brisbane on 12 April (3pm) you’ll get three for the price of one, and get to meet this key part of the newly revamped Trinity College.

And then there is Costa Stathakis’ induction at Glasshouse and Peachester Churches on 14 April at 10.30 followed by a morning tea. I hope to see you all there! Narelle Cramb will be inducted on 24 April at 2.30pm Gympie Grevillia Gardens. She’s been in this chaplaincy role for a while, but would certainly appreciate your support!

In the week starting 23rd April I intend to take a few days study leave to prepare for our upcoming retreat and the next Formation Day at Trinity College that I’ve been asked to lead (see page 4).

I really intend our September retreat to be a special event for our ministry agents. The broader theme will be μετάνοια. Romans 12:2 commands us, “Do not conform yourselves to the standards of this world, but let God transform you inwardly by a complete change of your mind.” (GNT) Traditionally the word μετάνοια is translated as “repent”. But this can be also defined as “a transformative change of heart”, literally when we go “beyond” (meta) our “mind” (nous).

On Fraser Island there will be enough time for silent contemplation, exploring nature (rainforest and or beach), sitting around a fire, building some collegiality, two thought provoking Bible studies, sharing Holy Communion in a different context, and some very good food too!

A Word from Chris...

We will create the space to open ourselves to the transformative power of God (see the article about the Partners in Ministry Retreat coming up as well - page 3).

On 6 May Stuart McMillan (President of the Uniting Church) is preaching at Buderim Uniting. Worth putting in your diary, if you can, or at least encourage others to go?

Please be assured, that as I drive and visit throughout our beautifully lush Presbytery, I do not only look at the fields and trees, make phone calls, and listen to audio books. I find this a good time to pray for each of you. May God truly bless your ministry during April and May. Make time, maybe not only pray for a colleague, but have a coffee with one as well? Let us be to one another what God has called us to be.

So, in closing, allow me to leave you with a thought:

“Out of the cacophony of random suffering and chaos that can mark human life, the life artist sees or creates a symphony of meaning and order. A life of wholeness does not depend on what we experience. Wholeness depends on how we experience our lives.”

Desmond Tutu

May God bless us all, each doing our little bit. Hooroo.

Youth Alpha at Bundaberg

Bundaberg Uniting Church started Youth Alpha a few weeks prior to the Easter Holiday. Youth Alpha has been re-launched and redone by the UK Alpha team and they certainly seem to have done their homework. The YouTube based programs are engaging on a number of different levels and appeal to tech-savvy teenagers in a relatable way. The presenters are multi-cultural and have travelled to all different parts of the world as they film the talks. The talks themselves have been broken up into three parts and question time happens in the talk with the video paused for a few minutes. Most helpfully, prior to asking the questions of your group of teenagers, the presenters ask the questions of random people around the world. The answers given are not edited or "Christianised" and the result is that before a discussion happens in a group, they have already heard some opinions that can be very different. This creates a space and freedom for the group to open up, as they can either comment on answers given in the video or feel free to express their opinion which may also be different.

(The whole course is free, and you can watch the video's online to see what I mean.)

At Bundaberg Uniting Church we are not only using the program for our teens, but also to develop new leaders as they start out as helpers to more experienced group leaders. The Alpha training videos are also very good in this regard. They also provide all sorts of electronic advertising pictures for Facebook and websites. Once you register, there is also a team in the UK who pray for your Alpha course throughout its duration.

We run the program at 16:00 on a Sunday afternoon, have dinner at 17:00 and the evening service starts at 18:00. The teens get snacks and lollies while they watch and this has gone down very well. We have also encouraged the teens to become involved in the evening service and a number have begun to do so. This is exciting to see, and hopefully will ensure a sense of ownership in the service as the teens get more and more involved in it.

Its still early days in our Alpha program but both participants and leaders are enjoying the talks and the teens certainly enjoy any opportunity to socialise with their friends. We have had people inviting their friends, which is just great, and we look forward to what God is doing in the lives of those attending as God uses this particular tool of ministry.

Rev Stuart Bosch

Prayer Focus

Please pray for Stuart, the Alpha leadership team and for youth participants that their hearts will be opened to accept Jesus Christ as their Lord and Saviour.

Invitation to Partners in Ministry Retreat from Henriette

It has now been a year since Chris started as Presbytery Minister in the Mary Burnett. Chris now has a variety of responsibilities for the 39 congregations and the chaplains in our area.

As a Christian and a minister's wife, I have always been involved in the congregations where Chris was called. In this new placement, I wondered: Where do I fit in???

Our home (and thus our congregational membership) was in Hervey Bay, but that was about to change. We both realised that it would be much less driving if we lived in the Sunshine Coast. I was totally unsettled. I knew no one there!!

I can imagine that a lot of the partners of ministers have been in similar situations. Almost by accident we heard about the PIM'S retreat (somewhere our mail got lost in the system).

I decided to give the PIM'S retreat a go. And it was such a blessed weekend!! I have met and made so many new friends. It was wonderful to be sharing time with other ministers' partners. We have experienced a lot of the same joys, blessings and frustrations that I have over the years. It was a few days that included a lot of laughs, tears, prayers, and general happiness. The weekend is very relaxed, and yet structured with a lot of opportunities for personal growth and constructive talks. I felt so refreshed and full of new energy when I left.

Our guest speaker this year in none other than Jenny Tymms. She will be leading us into Deep Work, Spiritual Practice in our Workday World (the title of her "hot-off-the-press" book). If you don't know her, or of her, be prepared to be pleasantly surprised.

This retreat is an excellent opportunity for you to come and be refreshed in body and spirit and to make new friends. We in Mary Burnett Presbytery are so privileged that the retreat is at Alex Park right on our doorstep. Come and discover how hospitable our Presbytery is. Please come and join us for this weekend, even if you just come as a day visitor. I can guarantee that you would not leave empty handed/hearted!!!

Greetings Henriette

Formation Days for Continuing Education

Have you considered attending the Formation Day Intensive at Trinity College?

I have the privilege to be invited to lead the two workshops on the next Formation Day on 30 April at Trinity College. I've attended the last one where Rev Bruce Moore led workshops on Change Management and Conflict Management in Congregational life, and I found the whole day very stimulating and informative.

I've been asked to do something challenging, and also something that I feel passionate about. So, the workshops will be about the strengths and weaknesses of the Revised Common Lectionary in a post-Christendom era. If that sounds a bit heavy, don't be discouraged. It will be a day of challenging our comfort zones and some of the false securities I believe that we have formed around the RCL. What are the shortcomings most don't even realise that it has? What effect has it had on our preaching and our personal development as worship leaders? Could it even be that using a Christendom tool in a post-Christendom era is contributing to our struggle to connect to the current 21st century community? And what are some of the possibilities on the way forward?

The day is open for non-students to attend. I would recommend that you advise Trinity of your coming (for morning tea and putting out chairs, etc), but please do consider coming.

Chris Crause

News from Standing Committee & Pastoral Relations Committee

Compulsory Ministry Agent Training - Mandatory reporting of Child Abuse

As part of the Synod Safe Ministry with Children process, all Ministry Agents will be required to complete three stages of training regarding the Church's policy on the Mandatory Reporting of Abuse of Children. This will be rolled out in the coming year.

The first stage is a computer based assessment, which any of our trainers will be able to arrange for you. This involves training on general aspects of our Safe Ministry with Children policy, and is assessed.

Once this is completed, it will be necessary to attend a group training day which will allow Ministry Agents to apply the principles of the policy in some hypothetical scenarios. Dave Thomas, Sue Mulcahy and David Ferguson have all been accredited to present these sessions and are in the process of arranging times and dates to do this.

Finally, a second set of computer based assessments will be used to allow participants to demonstrate that they are able to apply these principles.

As stated earlier, the sessions are in the process of being arranged and more information will be provided once this is more concrete.

Retreat

Our annual retreat for Ministers will be held from 3-6 September at Kingfisher Bay resort for a cost of $400/ ministry agent. The combined Standing Committee and Pastoral Relations Committee used the responses given by Ministry Agents to the survey on this to determine that we will be booking 8x2 person suites for this retreat which will be allocated on a first in first served basis. Watch out for further communication.

Moderator's Visit

The Moderator has offered to come up for a day to talk with any people from our Presbytery who wish to discuss the concerns expressed around the redress scheme at our last Presbytery meeting. We are seeking an appropriate day, and will publish this as soon as possible. This will not be a formal Presbytery meeting so that all people who are interested may attend.

Blue Care Commissioning

On the 24th of April at 2:30pm, Narelle Cramb will be commissioned as the Blue Care Chaplain for the Northern Sunshine Coast. This will be held at Grevillia Gardens, Gympie. All are welcome.

Supervision and Code of Ethics Voluntary Roles

The Standing Committee and the Pastoral Relations Committee discussed the importance of having people to champion the practice of Supervision for Ministry Agents within our Presbytery and also to co-ordinate the biennial Code of Ethics training for Ministry Agents. Position descriptions are being developed for these roles. If you are interested in contributing to these please contact Chris Crause or Dave Thomas.

Annual Review

One of the lesser known Regulations is that Ministry Agents are expected to submit an annual report to the Presbytery. In practice, this has been done by a visit from the Presbytery Minister. Chris is planning to continue this practice and would appreciate it if Ministry Agents contact him to arrange an appropriate time for a coffee and a chat.

Copyright

Congregations are reminded that under the law, copyright permissions must be obtained for all lyrics that they project on a screen or print copies of. While many congregations use companies (such as CCLI) to provide copyright coverage, these are not necessarily complete and we remind you of the importance of checking that individual hymns are covered before using these copies or projections. Many of the songs in Together in Song are not covered under CCLI licenses.

Dostana Group of the Mary Burnett Presbytery

DIOCESAN GIRLS HOSTEL - UPDATE FOR SUPPORTERS

The Girls Hostel that we have supported since 2011 was relocated from Kangra to Amritsar in the neighbouring Indian state of Punjab during our group visit there in April 2017. It was officially opened as the Diocesan Girls Hostel, part of the Diocese of Amritsar (DoA) in the Church of North India (CNI).

This move was the decision of the Diocese together with UnitingWorld to address concerns about 1) child safety and nutrition 2) the quality of education available and 3) satisfactory systems of financial accountability.

The Dostana Development Fund (DDF) is a Capital Fund established in November 2011 to support the Girls Hostel in perpetuity. It reached its goal of $350 000 in May 2014. It was initiated by what was then the Sunshine Coast Dostana Group, now the Dostana Group of the Mary-Burnett Presbytery. The DDF is now held in trust and managed by UnitingWorld.

The present situation: There are currently 24 girls resident at the Hostel. The conditions in Amritsar are vastly superior to the previous facility in Kangra and the opportunities much greater for the future of the girls.

UnitingWorld (UW) has integrated the Hostel into its International Partnership Projects Program. The DoA has now produced a detailed Budget for the next three years to fully fund the Hostel, and UW has approved this for the Financial Years 2017-18, 2018-19 & 2019-20. The planning for this period includes lifting the number of girls to 40, thus providing better economy of scale and more adequate staff support.

The budgeted Total Project Costs for the current 3-year period are:

2017-18	$28 762
2018-19	$42 780
2019-20	$46 058

The DDF provides a net contribution of $16 000 per year towards these funds, leaving a shortfall of the following amounts to be raised:

2017-18	$12 762
2018-19	$26 780
2019-20	$30 058

Reflection: When the Dostana Group set about establishing the DDF we made our calculations based on the best information we had at the time – an annual cost of $300 per year per place. The targets we set have all been met – even exceeded, but time has proven this was not as reliable a base as we had hoped. The upgrading of facilities, improvement of educational opportunities and nutrition, the financial accountability and oversight of the project supplied by UW, have all added to costs. The actual annual cost of providing a place by 2020 will in fact be $1200. This is still great value for a project that gives so much hope to the girls, their families and villages, now and into the future.

The DDF is providing significant basic support. The challenge is to supplement this now.

Thank you for your ongoing support, both material and prayerful!
