

Graham's Reflection

Once again it is the wonderful season of Pentecost. Pentecost was arguably one of the greatest events since the creation of the world, and yet we do not always treat it with the sense of awe and wonder that it deserves. For the fact is, if it were not for the events that took place on that first day of Pentecost around 2,000 years ago, the church would not exist.

American author Robert Baer is quoted as saying, "Bethlehem was God with us, Calvary was God for us, and Pentecost is God in us". Pentecost happened and God is not only with us or for us, but is in us. The world will never be the same.

But as important, and exciting as the story of Pentecost is -the images of flames alighting of the heads of the disciples, the wonder of people of all lands hearing the story of Jesus in their own language, the almost unbelievable record of 3,000 people accepting Christ and being baptised on this one day – in preparation for today I am often drawn back to the days preceding this event. Why? Because I think we can learn a lot about being prepared for the movement of the Holy Spirit by taking this short step back.

You see, we often overlook the period of about 10 days between Jesus Ascension, and the outpouring of the Holy Spirit at Pentecost. What were the disciples doing? And is this important?

I used to have this picture of Pentecost where the disciples were scared and locked away hiding from the Romans – broken disillusioned, and fearful. But no, that is not the truth at all. Acts records, that after Jesus was taken up into heaven, the disciples returned to Jerusalem where ‘they all joined together constantly in prayer’ (Acts 1: 10-14). This is what they were doing when the day of Pentecost arrived; they were waiting and praying and ready and looking forward with anticipation to what God was about to do. They were obedient to the command of Jesus and were waiting prayerfully, actively and with great expectation for his promise to be fulfilled.

And when that moment came – they were found ready. It was that Kairos moment – a God ordained time when not only were the Disciples ready to receive the gift of the Spirit, but the world was also primed and ready for the message they had to declare.

The last few years have been a bit of a wild ride for the church. The changing culture of society, the impact of Covid-19, decreasing numbers, shrinking offerings, increasing costs, and a seemingly uncertain future. As we look at unfulfilled dreams, I hear so many anxious church-goers saying, ‘What is happening?’ There seems to be a second unspoken question, ‘Has God abandoned us?’

Of course God has not abandoned us, but perhaps there is a sense where we often abandon God by not be truly open to the guidance and power of the Holy Spirit.

Although we often pray or sing ‘send us your Holy Spirit’, the fact is that we don’t need to ask or invite the Holy Spirit to come– the living presence of God is already at work within the life of the church, even if we don’t recognise it.

Author and theologian, John Stott once reflected, "We do not need to wait for the Holy Spirit to come: he came on the day of Pentecost. He has never left the church."

The problem is not whether the Holy Spirit is present, but whether are we open to allowing the Spirit to exercise any power within our life and ministry. I believe we are on the verge of our own Pentecost moment – a time of change and renewal, but are we ready for change?

God has poured out His Spirit on the church. Like the disciples, we need to pray with expectation, and wait in readiness for the Spirit to guide us into a new future. Will we be ready when those Kairos times come in the life of the church today?

PS Graham Huth

New Outreach at Caloundra Uniting – Acting out God’s love in the community.

It’s been talked about, prayed about, and now it’s happening!

Breakfasts for the needy on Monday mornings!

Caloundra Uniting is next door to the Caloundra Community Centre and we have developed a real partnership with them. For several years now we have been serving tea and toast Breakfast for those who come to use the Orange Sky Laundry there on Fridays. We provide goods from our congregation for their Open Pantry each week. Increasingly, we have become very conscious that the need is huge – for meals, for shelter, and for a genuine listening ear.

We became involved in discussions with a gathering of representatives of other local churches, then with the Community Centre. We can’t provide accommodation, so what could we do? Discussion, consultation with other churches, and prayer followed. Finally, we decided what our contribution could be: we could at least add to the list of groups which provide a hot meal during the week.

So – on Monday May 16th, we launched our Uniting Community Breakfast. Our volunteers were ready and waiting – and they came. We started small but word is spreading each week! It’s ‘Cook as they Come’ and there’s a cooked breakfast for those who need it.

It’s now a regular feature in our Church Hall - between 7 and 9 am each Monday.

The Team is there and the word is spreading. It’s exciting! Acting out God’s love in the community!

Congratulations Peter & Susan!

Peter and Susan Mortimer being congratulated by Tanya Feelings FCPA Qld Divisional President of CPA's on both attaining the 40 years milestone as CPA's. A very rare occurrence for a husband and wife to receive this milestone together!

This was held at Twin waters and we were honoured to be asked to do the vote of thanks speech at the end of the ceremony.

Susan receiving her certificate for obtaining 40 years of Membership as a Chartered Accountant from Queensland Council Chair, Mark Bushell FCA.

Whilst it was an honour to be recognised for maintaining our qualifications for 40 years, which required regular professional development, the more important achievement was how we have been able to apply these skills to serving.

Project Plenty update

Environmental sustainability is one of the key commitments discerned during the Plenty engagement process throughout the Queensland Synod. It is a core part of the Shared life. Flourishing communities strategic vision. The initiative outlined the need to, "Develop and promote a care for creation Position Statement and Action Plan".

The report is available for download here.

There are also Zoom meetings you can attend for more information. A link to these sessions is available on Uniting News, issued February 1 2022 which can be found here.

The A Flourishing Creation document has been developed in consultation with many people and groups across the church. We would like you to be involved in the next round of consultation by responding to these questions:

1. Do you agree with the proposed theological rationale to guide the development of the Queensland Synod's 2030 Action and Advocacy Plan for environmental sustainability? Is there anything missing from it that you think is important?
2. Are the proposed principles relevant to guide the development of the Queensland Synod's 2030 Action and Advocacy Plan for environmental sustainability? Is there anything missing from the principles that you think is important?
3. Do you think the proposed six themes capture the areas of greatest relevance and influence for the Synod? Do you have any suggestions for practical opportunities and actions that you would like to see in the Synod's 2030 Action and Advocacy Plan?

You can have your say by emailing your responses here, by mail to Plenty Team GPO Box 674, Brisbane, Queensland, 4001, or you can take the survey:

Conclusion of Placement – Natalie Roy

On the 13th May 2022, a service was held to mark the conclusion of placement for Natalie Roy as Chaplain with Blue Care Caloundra and Noosa communities. It was only a small gathering due to the inclement weather and flooding in surrounding areas, but still a very special time to reflect on and celebrate what Natalie has achieved in her role with Blue Care. Rev Dr Adam McIntosh (UCQ Associate Director of Mission – Pastoral Care) led us through the service, and Presbytery Chair Liena Hoffman shared a short reflection on the comfort we receive from God and the comfort that was central to Natalie's work within the aged care facilities in which she worked. In response to an invitation from Adam many shared personal stories of the impact Natalie has had on them, the support and pastoral care she has brought to residents and staff and her commitment to sharing God's love in word and action.

As Natalie was released from this placement, she was sent with our prayers and God's Blessing on the journey ahead and future ministry opportunities whatever they may be.

A big thank you to Caloundra Uniting Church for the venue and the yummy morning tea after the service!

Naomi Cavalli, Presbytery Secretary

UNITING WORLD

THANK YOU FOR STANDING WITH TONGA

We've been blown away by your response to help our neighbours in Tonga after the devastating volcano and tsunami that hit in January. Our partners the Free Wesleyan Church of Tonga (FWCT) immediately rolled out the Tekina 'I Moana initiative, the disaster management and recovery arm of the church. Your support helped our partners to visit eight villages in the hardest-hit areas across Tongatapu and the Ha'apai islands to provide essentials like food, clothes, and shelter, as well as disaster chaplains to offer counselling and spiritual encouragement to those displaced by the tsunami.

Surveys were conducted during the visits to evaluate the loss and damage, although it was recognised that for many people it was too soon to even contemplate their future needs. Our partners say it meant a lot to the communities that the church visited them so soon after the disaster.

Disaster preparation helping long-term recovery

Back in 2018, UnitingWorld supported FWCT to build and stock a large storage facility for building materials (pictured) to be able to begin repairs to damaged buildings quickly after disasters rather than having to wait for supplies to be shipped in from outside. It was used for Cyclone Harold and is now being used for reconstruction work on the most affected homes.

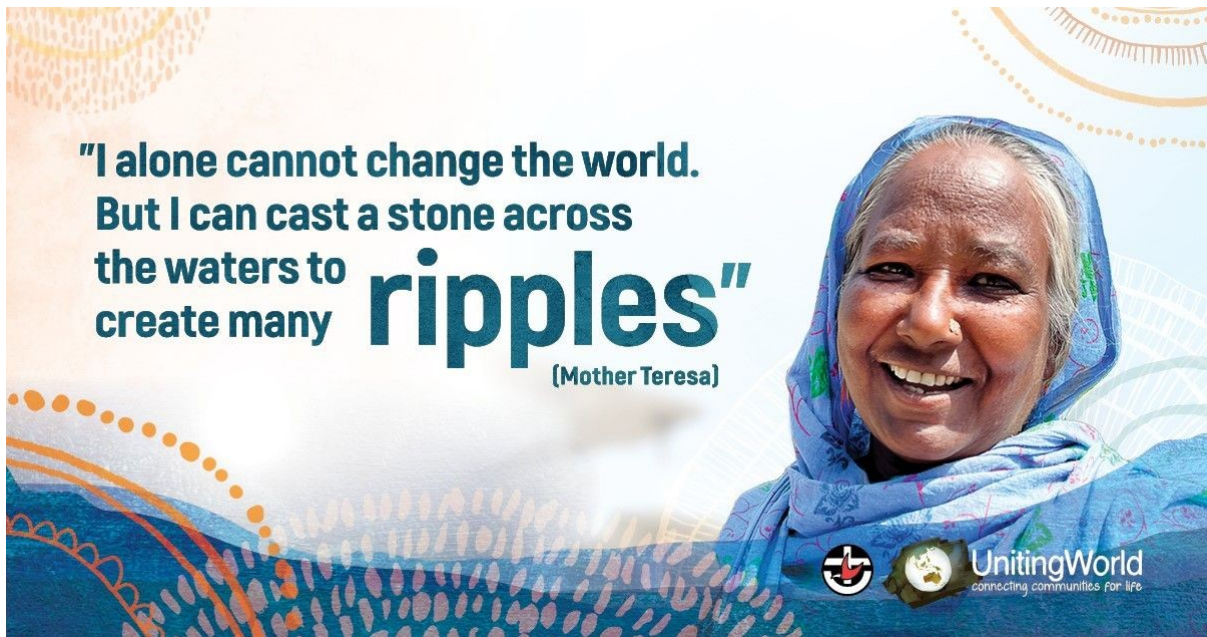

Your support means UnitingWorld can help restock this facility and ensure significant reconstruction of destroyed homes and public buildings.

Going forward, your gifts will enable the FWCT to provide urgently needed supplies of small boats, tents, temporary toilets, school bags, basic tools, petrol, generators, water tanks and fishing gear to island communities whose homes were destroyed. Thank you so much!

UNITING WORLD

Ranjit and her family were in trouble. As a widow with a disability, the pandemic and its lockdowns left she and her sons on the edge of survival. When the family came to the attention of our partner, the Church of North India (CNI), they provided urgent food and medical supplies.

But the ripples didn't stop there... Read Ranjit's story

Your gift has up to six times the impact for people like Ranjit and her family.

Your donation can allow our partners in India and across Asia, Africa and the Pacific to provide critical training, employment opportunities, clean water, education and hope to families like Ranjit's.

As a partner of the Australian Government, we can access funding each year to implement poverty alleviation, gender quality and climate change programs overseas. But we need your help to do it. We have committed to raising at least $1 for every $5 we receive from the government. So your donation will be combined with funding from the Australian Government to reach more people!
