

Phil Smith MEO bloke!

“And I say this with all respect....”

That would have to be one of the most misused and abused statements ever bandied about. I’ve heard it used as a prelude to slander and a whitewash for the verbal attacks that followed in the same breath.

What does it mean to ‘respect’ someone? If you wear spectacles you’re already starting to see where this is going.

Respect comes from the Latin, respectus, and from the verb respicere, meaning to ‘look back at, regard’, from re- (back) plus specere (look at). To respect someone isn’t really about esteem or higher regard. It is to regard and to notice with especial attention.

The obvious Gospel passage for this reflection might be looking for the speck in someone’s eye while I have a log in my own. I cannot respect; “look closely, with special attention” at anyone’s faults when I am blind to my own. Respect is not possible.

However, there may be another lesson for us to look back at and reconsider more closely in Mark’s Gospel.

“Jesus took the blind man by the hand. Then he led him outside the village. He spit on the man’s eyes and placed his hands on him. “Do you see anything?” Jesus asked.

²⁴ The man looked up. He said, “I see people. They look like trees walking around.”

²⁵ Once more Jesus put his hands on the man’s eyes. Then his eyes were opened so that he could see again. He saw everything clearly.”

Jesus has looked closely at the man’s need. This respect includes personal touch and private connection. Jesus deliberately avoids a public spectacle in the village square.

Jesus’ genuine and gentle question isn’t a demand that the man see things Jesus’ way; “Can’t you see!”

There is beautiful honesty in the evangelist’s recollection here. The man says he can’t see as Jesus does. He doesn’t pretend. Things are not clear to him. Jesus respects the man by not giving up. There is yet another personal touch, and finally the man can see again.

Respect goes both ways and allows two people to look again, together, depending on God to give clarity. Anything less is self-focused; my-opia.

So, before I make a spectacle of someone – perhaps myself – I would do well to respect; to look very carefully indeed.

COVID-19 update

A significant change to the way Queenslanders manage COVID-19 occurred on Thursday 13th Oct.

The public health direction relating to isolation and quarantine periods for persons contracting COVID has been revoked. This means a diagnosed case no longer needs to remain at home whilst they are positive.

The potential for the virus to circulate in your community has increased substantially with this change. Whilst permitted to be out and about when positive, we would encourage church councils to ask their church family to care for one another by continuing to avoid face-to-face worship and other activities whilst unwell.

Cleaning, hand hygiene and physical distancing to the extent possible continue to be essential control measures preventing the spread of the virus. Thank you for continuing to respond to the changing advice and managing the ongoing challenges this creates.

If you have any questions, the COVID team is always available at COVID19@ucaqld.com.au.

'100' Peacheater Centenary Celebrations '100'

Vale Reverend Peter Taubner - Minute of Appreciation

From the moment Reverend Peter Taubner commenced ministry within the Isis Cluster in November 2010, he found many outlets for the energy and enthusiasm that have always been hallmarks of his ministry.

As well as the having three distinctive congregations in which to minister, he had three quite different local communities with which to engage. Peter has actively and successfully done so; particularly fostering good ecumenical relationships and supporting Religious Education and Chaplaincy in schools.

Peter's time in Isis has been greatly appreciated by all the members of the congregations of Childers, Woodgate and Biggenden, which comprise the Isis Cluster.

With an emphasis on faithfulness and service through Christian action, Peter's preaching, teaching and leadership, and the diversity of worship styles he has offered, will be greatly missed. In a recent Presbytery Consultation, one respondent said, "He brings to his teaching and leadership a refreshing openness to share his love of the Lord and a mission to enthuse others and make them feel welcome."

Peter has also offered his seemingly tireless enthusiasm and energy in service to the wider church. During his five years within the Mary-Burnett Presbytery he has been Secretary of Northern Zone of Presbytery, served on PRC, led JNCs and assisted with Consultations.

He has generously offered a lot of his time to managing the Presbytery Web Site, and could always be counted upon to bring his camera to events to ensure we are all kept up to date with news from across the Presbytery.

For the last six months Peter has also worked on a new project examining the possibility of resourcing ministry at Eidsvold and Mundubbera through the Ministry agent based at Childers. The ARM – Central Burnett project crosses Northern and Inland Zone boundaries; but in many ways it is a more practical way of supporting these congregations than maintaining only Inland Zone links. Peter's efforts in this project are proving very fruitful.

Many congregations who have been supplied candles through Peter as the local distributor for Compassion Candles will now find it not so convenient to access candles. No more calling Peter a day or so before Presbytery and saying, 'while you're down, you can't just bring me some baptism candles, some more wax and a couple of wicks, can you?'

...And who will now bring the games and provide entertainment for nights at Ministers Retreats.

Peter, we will miss your boundless energy and passion for the work of the Lord, for the church and for the people God places in your path; and we will certainly miss your laughter, which brightens up the world wherever you go. We wish you all the best with your new placement at Rosewood-Haigslea. Our prayers go with you.

On behalf of the Presbytery of Mary-Burnett I am happy to move this minute of appreciation for the ministry of the Reverend Peter Taubner.

(Copy of the Letter of Appreciation written by Ps Graham Huth when Rev Peter Taubner left MB)

SERVICE OF CLOSURE – Pastor Jim Hall

After seven years as Pastor at Gympie Regional Uniting Church, Jim Hall concluded his placement at a Service of Closure on Sunday 2nd October 2022 at St Andrews Church Gympie.

During Jim's time as Pastor in Gympie and the Mary Valley he provided care through home visits, hospital and Aged Care visits, funerals etc. He also introduced Connect Teams at Gympie Church and established the use of U Care for church attendances and for recording details of pastoral care visits, prayer teams, led Alpha study groups and held weekly coffee mornings to allow members of the congregation to fellowship away from church.

The church was at capacity with 104 people in attendance and the presence of the Lord surrounded us. It was wonderful to have members of Presbytery and their families in attendance. A final communion service was led by Pastor Jim Hall.

The Service of Closure was led by Presbytery Minister Pastor Graham Huth following his message of "Guarding the Treasure". The Service of Closure concluded with the handing over of the Congregation List to Church Council and prayers.

Several people then spoke words of appreciation to Jim for his friendship and his work. The service concluded with morning tea.

Project Plenty - PMLP Update

The Plentiful Mentoring Leadership Program (PMLP) is now well underway with 40 Leaders from across all parts of the church, evolving their leadership skills and awareness. The program is unique in that it involves people from services, schools and colleges and congregations all coming together to discuss the challenges and opportunities that leaders share, regardless of their working environment.

We have been exploring Leading Self and Leading into the Future. Everyone is supporting and challenging each other through their peer mentoring, already half-way through round 1. Bringing leaders together across Queensland, the program has been delivered largely online. It's fair to say that everyone is very much looking forward to getting together for the 2-day retreat in Brisbane on November 24/25th and the opportunity this presents to deepen connections to each other and the journey.

Mary Christmas Burnett!

The Burnett Network of Churches covers a huge proportion of the Mary Burnett Presbytery.

One of the two ministers, alone, will have covered 24000 kilometres this year.... With diesel now worth more than $2.40 per litre, well, you do the sums 😊

Every local church has challenges, but we have a heart for small congregations in the shrinking towns of country Queensland.

We'd like to raise $300 per month into the future to keep the wheels turning, and the Good News going, as Jesus said, "into the villages."

Dear Burnett Network,

Thanks for blessing your communities over such a wide area and in so many ways.

Kid's Games Day Camp in Blackbutt

What a great opportunity to work together in connecting with community of Blackbutt.

Over three days in the school holidays the Uniting Church was privileged to work with Scripture Union, Lions and YWAM holding a Kid's Games event.

This is the first time such an event has been run, and initially we were a little worried what interest there might be within the area. But God provided with 38 kids arriving to participate on day one.

The highlight for me was hearing one of the children as they were walking past to get some lunch singing one of the songs that YWAM had taught them:

"My God is so big and so strong and so mighty..."

Awesome!

Response has been very positive and there are further plans to hold another camp as well as continuing to connect via other events in the area.

A big thanks to all those involved in bringing this into being.

What a blessing to be a part of what God is doing through his people.

Book Review

Faith After Doubt - Brian McLaren

I will admit, as one with quite an orthodox faith and understanding, some of Brian McLaren's work has challenged me very deeply in the past, perhaps raising my hackles from time to time. However, where's the value in only reading authors who reinforce my own point of view?

If you have lost faith in the church's institutions, our traditions - perhaps in the pat doctrines and statements of faith we started with in Sunday School - this is a great book. If you, or someone you love, is even doubting God, this is an excellent book.

What is Paul was right when he wrote to the Galatians and said, "The only thing that counts is faith expressing itself through love."? The life we are eagerly awaiting through the Holy Spirit; the righteousness we hope for, is not faith expressed in culturally acceptable morals, our denominational doctrines, great debates on face book or the floor of Synod. It won't be found in more meetings or the manual for meetings.

The winsome life that will draw others is faith expressing itself through love. Genuine Christian maturity looks like faith expressing itself through love.

McLaren recounts his own hard journey from Youth Group, with its simplistic answers to life's complexities, through the wrestling with scripture in theological college, and the eventual realisation that much of 20th Century church life had become about maintaining the institution and the buildings. I would suggest the reason so many of his colleagues shunned him, and perhaps why many will dismiss his thesis, is that living by Grace is scary. We often prefer the hard-line rules, and welded-on traditions to the risk of Jesus' (truly) unconditional love.

It takes hard-won courage and a maturity born of facing life's most painful questions of belonging and purpose, to step off the edge into grace, and admit, "I don't have all the answers." This might be where we discover God's great gift of faith to replace our own man-made 'certainties'.

McLaren offers four stages of faith experience—Simplicity, Complexity, Perplexity, and Harmony; a path forward that can help sincere and thoughtful people leave behind unnecessary baggage and intensify their commitment to what matters most; living in God's purpose for humanity.

In my reading of the book, he doesn't offer this as a linear experience, graduating from one 'level' to the next. Perhaps more like the rings of a tree's growth, we will circle around. Whether it be a crisis or a betrayal, Christians will come to a moment when, if we're honest, the simplistic cliché answers don't cut it. Can we face complexity that takes us beyond a black and white/us and them/I'm right, you're wrong way of living in the world?

We will be perplexed. That was OK for so many of the bible writers, and so necessary. How can we expect to dive into the depths of God's mystery without a willingness to be perplexed?

The world and our place in it will not always be a comfortable, easily mapped experience. Faith expressed in love can help us touch moments of harmony with ourselves, others, the Holy Spirit.

My own closing thought was one of gratitude. I have my doubts. I can no longer push them under the rug. This is why God offers us the gift of faith. So-called 'certainty' does away with the need for faith.

God gives us hope. Going forward into maturity means leaving childhood's simplistic answers behind.

And the greatest is love. McLaren says it may be a lonely journey for many who question the old certainties of their churches. I hope you have someone close with whom you can explore and find harmony.

NYALC aims to nurture and equip our next generation of UCA leaders. Across three days, participants will share in worship, input sessions, bible study, peer reflection groups and more. See this invitation from the President.
