

Graham's Reflection

Mary Burnett

Greetings Mary Burnett Presbytery, and God's richest blessings to you all.

"Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." (Matthew 11:28-30)

As I have travelled around the Presbytery meeting with ministers, pastors, chaplains, congregations, and church councils, there is a distinct commonality in almost all conversations – church work is heavy going. Church leaders are tired, frustrated, and increasingly feeling discouraged. The heavy load of leadership is taking a heavy toll on people. Leaders are working harder, and largely with no recognisable gain. Trying to balance budgets, source and train volunteers, fill preaching and music rosters, manage property and administration, and still find the energy and time to be true to the core purpose of the church – making disciples, can extract a heavy toll.

In our lectionary readings for July we hear then a very welcome passage from Matthew 11. Above our struggles, weariness and tears comes the beckoning cry of Jesus, "Come to me, all you that are weary and are carrying heavy burdens, and I will give you rest".

The most obvious message – that of comfort and rest, is why so many people cling tightly this passage. What an attractive promise to anyone who has felt driven into the ground by forces that seem too great for us.

But this passage holds so much more than just a promise of release from any troubles. It is not a guarantee of an easy life. Jesus is not promising to solve our problems or remove the need for us to work through them.

You see, the image of the yoke is not one that symbolises relaxation or inaction. It is a tool for heavy work. A yoke is a wooden bar that runs across the necks of two animals of burden (usually bullocks or donkeys) to allow them to pull together to share the load.

A few years ago, our family visited the Bunya Mountains and went on a wagon ride. I sat up the front because there was no room left in the back. The teamster was keen to tell me about the horses. And as with other animals that are teamed together, he had one older more experienced horse with a younger one. While the younger was strong, it needed to learn from the other and takes its lead to know what was expected.

Jesus in offering his yoke says, "allow me to not only share the load, but also allow me to teach you how to deal with these burdens." "Come to me," says Jesus, "and get into the harness with me and work shoulder to shoulder with me." "Learn from me", Jesus also declares, "for I am gentle and humble in heart, and you will find rest for your souls". Rest comes not from trying to offload our encumbrance, but learning from the gentle and loving heart of our Lord how to find rest, even while shouldering the responsibilities of leadership and discipleship.

This passage is not just a message of comfort, but a call to change our ways and commit ourselves to life connected to Jesus. He is not saying this work will be easy, but that the yoke he offers differs from the crippling yoke of society, of religiosity, or of meeting other peoples' and our own expectations. Fulfilment will only be found in taking on the yoke that fits right, putting our shoulder to the task for which we were created, and the best news of all is that that means being yoked to one who is gentle and humble in heart and who enables our whole being to relax and be at peace, despite the pressures surrounding us.

Perhaps, (a little tongue-in-cheek) this is an opportune time to point out our need for someone to take up the important burden of Presbytery Chairperson. In all seriousness though, the image of taking on any challenging role like this may not immediately sound like an image of rest, however Jesus promises that he will help shoulder the load, and when yoked to him, the fit can be easy and light, and give rest to your soul. Perhaps he is calling you!

May you be blessed, and find rest labouring not only for, but with the master.

*Grace and peace,
Pastor Graham Huth*

“THANK YOU FROM MUNDUBBERA OP SHOP”

Once again members of the wider Presbytery have rallied and come to our aid with donations for our Op Shop.

In May Jim Dempsey and Ps Steven Fincham arrived fully loaded with blankets / doonas / linen and much more.

This month (June) Rev Ray and Helen Nutley delivered a “ute load” of donations from the Kingaroy Congregation.

These donations are very much appreciated by us and the large number of itinerant workers who arrive not realising just how cold our winters can be.

We will miss Susan and Peter Mortimer as they leave Kingaroy. We have always appreciated their help and advice.

To You All Again a “HUGE THANK YOU”

Presbytery committees members

Thank you to all who have stepped into Presbytery roles to serve on our committees. We welcome:

Presmin: Graham Huth

Chairperson: Liena Hoffman

Secretary: Naomi Cavalli

Treasurer: Peter Mortimer

Mission Engagement Officer: Phil Smith

Property Committee: Liena Hoffman

Standing Committee: Stuart Bosch; Tanya Richards, Susan Mortimer; MEO, Presmin, Pres Chair, Pres Secretary; Pres Treasurer

Pastoral Relations Committee: Stuart Bosch, Tanya Richards, Bruce Ames, Margaret Gilbert, Presmin, Pres Chair, Pres Secretary

Please pray for the members of these committees as they carry out the work of the Presbytery on our behalf.

I URGE THAT PETITIONS,
PRAYERS, INTERCESSIONS,
AND THANKSGIVING BE OFFERED FOR ALL THOSE IN AUTHORITY, SO THAT WE MAY LEAD TRANQUIL AND QUIET LIVES IN ALL
GODLINESS AND DIGNITY.

The QLD community has raised an impressive $39,252, with a heart warming fundraising story to share. Stephen, a maintenance partner, inspired his co-workers to donate by suggesting they contribute the $6 they would usually spend on morning coffee. Despite some initial grumbling, the team eagerly joined in, resulting in an astounding $458 donation to Hummingbird House. This act of selflessness reminds us of our power to make a meaningful impact and encourages everyone to contribute, no matter how small, to support those in need.

FOR OUR ELDERS

2-9 JULY 2023

UnitingCare Queensland embraces the "For Our Elders" theme for National NAIDOC Week 2023. We recognise the immense importance of honouring and respecting Elders, which aligns with our core services. Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Elders hold invaluable cultural knowledge and play vital roles as leaders, nurturers, and custodians. We wholeheartedly encourage First and Second peoples to observe this year's NAIDOC Week theme and deeply reflect on how they can honour and respect Elders personally and professionally.

We have established our NAIDOC Merchandise hub to provide further support and resources and encourage everyone to explore it.

Throughout National NAIDOC Week, we have planned various exciting events and activities. These include awards ceremonies, celebrations, cultural activities, and community days across various locations. We are actively involved in these events, joining hands with affiliated organisations to support and celebrate the remarkable achievements of First Nations peoples.

Click here to view events across the state!

At UnitingCare, we sincerely appreciate the contributions of our Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander employees, whose shared lived experiences enrich our organisation. We extend our warmest wishes to everyone for a joyful and fulfilling NAIDOC Week.

The National NAIDOC Week website also offers valuable resources and information related to the 2023 theme and registered events.

President's Conference At Redcliffe UC - 26th - 30th July

It's just over two months until the 2023 President's Conference, taking place in two parts from 26-30 July at Redcliffe Uniting Church north of Brisbane.

The first part of the Conference will explore the theme, 'Ministry in precarious times.' What do we mean by precarious times? What are some of the marks of this?

What might we reflect on in this part of the conference that may resonate with people who minister in the Uniting Church?

How will the second part of the conference tap into the All of this Is Us theme?

What would be a big drawcard for people to this part of the conference?

The Synod has joined the Queensland Conservation Council's Cost of Living x Climate Coalition, along with other environmental and social services organizations, to endorse its "Power Together" campaign. The campaign advocates for increased investment in renewable energy by the Queensland Government to alleviate the cost of living for vulnerable communities.

We support this vital initiative as part of our ongoing commitment to environmental sustainability and the principles outlined in our Flourishing Creation Action and Advocacy Plan. Your participation in this advocacy campaign will help amplify our collective voice and positively impact vulnerable communities. Let's stand together in promoting renewable energy investment and ensuring a more sustainable and equitable future for all.
